

TOWN OF HUNTINGTON

Holiday Decorating Contest

Councilwoman Tracey Edwards, the Town of Huntington and Long Islander News present winners of the second annual Town of Huntington Holiday Decorating Contest.

Now in its second year, the contest is officially a Town of Huntington holiday tradition that awards residents who best show their holiday spirit.

Here's how it worked: Residents submitted photographs of their holiday displays and a panel of judges led by Santa Tracey Edwards selected the best of several categories. This past weekend, Santa Tracey and her Elves visited the finalists' homes to select the winners.

Special thanks to the judges who joined Councilwoman Tracey Edwards: NYS Assemblyman Chad Lupinacci; Suffolk County Legislator William "Doc" Spencer and family; Councilman Mark Cuthbertson; Councilman Gene Cook and family; Huntington Superintendent of Highways Pete and Mary Gunther; Elf Michelle Martines, Elf Steve Jiminez; and especially, Elf Troy Jerideau.

There were many unique, creative and wonderful displays representing many faiths, cultures and family traditions that celebrate the joy and excitement of the holiday season. Congratulations to all for the creativity and enthusiasm in your holiday displays.

Happy holidays to all. We're looking forward to next year!
